Comment: On learning that this mast was to be relocated to the end of Arnison Road I visited the current site of the mast in the Hampton Court industrial estate. I am still unsure as to why the mast is being relocated? It's current position is away from housing and there is plenty of room around it left for maintenance. The intended position is next to Boleyn Court and Kingfisher Court. There is little room around so that when it needs to be maintained which will involve a cherry picker the road will be blocked off. The top of Arnison Road is already a bottle neck with cars disregarding the double yellow lines. Also a large cabinet will be needed to be situated by the side of the mast. Given this is a conservation area I cannot understand how this mast can be positioned here, there must be various locations around Molesey away from housing, schools, incredibly congested roads which would be more suitable. I have already voiced my concerns to the company involved but they haven't bothered to come to me.
