Comment: Dear Sir, Madam

We are writing to object in the strongest terms to this planned erection of a large (45M) Telco Mast. The proposed location is on the boundary area of the historic and important Conservation area and close to a local junior school. The building it is situated next to is actually Boleyn Court (- as in Anne Boleyn.) As further context to the historic importance of the area in question. The area is totally unsuitable for such a Mast such as this - which should be situated in a far less densely populated area and out of sight. The potential danger from Electric and Magnetic Field emissions (EMF) is still being widely reviewed and understood. Until this has been better understood close proximity to dwellings such as Boleyn Court and close to schools and other dwellings should in our view be avoided at all costs. The facts are that the long term effects on health from these types of Masts is still not fully understood - that is why we urge strongly that this location is declined as too risky for local residents and children (at the near by school) & is too big a gamble - when other safer sites can be located and not impede on the Conservation area & potentially to the health of local residents and the many visitors to the area.

Yours Faithfully
Mr & Mrs S Parkins
