Comment: I object to this planning application. It is a gross over development for the size of the site. It contravenes the Railway Act of 1913 which was passed to constrain the height of buildings to 50 feet. This is to protect the views to and from Hampton Court Palace, a major tourist attraction. The existing traffic in the area is currently heavily congested and is at a standstill at certain times of the day. The increase in traffic due to the proposed development will greatly exacerbate the existing congested adjacent roads. There is also an issue with traffic pollution exceeding WHO guidelines.

The proposed development is grossly out of proportion considering the for the size of the site.
