Comment: I have only just heard about this application by word of mouth even though my home will be severely impacted by this development. I fear the remaining 13 days to comment will be too short a time for me to read through the 98 documents in this application. Residents that will be impacted by this development are yet to be officially informed of this application, I'm sure it's a legal requirement that residents impacted by developments must be notified of an application once it has been submitted. Official leaflets through letterboxes or emails are yet to be seen. The comment deadline for this application should be pushed back until those affected are officially notified.
