Comment: Notwithstanding the revised plans after refusal of the previous application the proposed development is, I believe, still in breach of regulations due to its excessive height, bulk and massing to the village street scene. It is completely overbearing. It is a huge building. Whilst regeneration of the High Street is needed these current plans actually provide for a reduction in retail space as well as a reduction in the pavement area. Furthermore no provision has been made for the disruption that would be caused to the area should such a development be approved
