Comment: I grew up in Oxshott, a charming village that was notably less densely populated compared to other parts of Surrey. I'm deeply concerned about the proposed project, as it threatens to significantly alter the character of our village in profoundly negative ways.

Allowing such a project to proceed risks overcrowding our small community, leading to increased traffic congestion and subsequent rises in both road and noise pollution. This stands to disrupt the tranquil atmosphere that makes Oxshott so special.

I urge careful consideration of the long-term consequences before proceeding with this project, as it has the potential to irreversibly change the dynamic of our beloved village.
