Comment type: You object to the planning application

Date of comment: 21 May 2024

Comment: The revised plans do not appear to be significantly different to those previously submitted, so the objections remain. The fundamental problem with this application is the attempt to pack far too many properties into a limited space with insufficient parking for residents and visitors. This will have a large impact on parking in nearby roads.

The application states that no work has been done on the site. However, trees were cut down shortly before the initial application was made.
